Cooperative Sale Continues to Draw Thrifty Buyers

Kingston Merchants' Cooperative Sale Will End Saturday Night—Reasonable Buyers Who Practice Thrift Are Securing Big Bargains in All Kinds of Merchandise.

The Kingston Merchants' Cooperative Sale continues to attract large crowds of thrifty buyers to the stores. This one big cooperative sale will continue for the remainder of the week and at the conclusion of the sale only those who have failed to take advantage of the sale will find that they have lost an opportunity to practice thrift. Although the big ten days cooperative sale is now more than half passed there are still many opportunities to save. Merchants who are participating in the sale have made drastic reductions on merchandise and although many people have taken the opportunity to save offered them, there are still bargains for all.

Savings Along All Lines.

Seasonable goods have been marked down to the cost price in order to move the merchandise and clear the shelves for the spring merchandise which will shortly be arriving. In order to make the sale a big success other merchandise has also been reduced so as to offer genuine savings along all lines. Every kind of merchandise and all kinds of stores are cooperating in this one big clearance sale and there are ample opportunities to save, no matter what kind of merchandise is desired.

Sale Ends Saturday Night.

The Merchants' Cooperative Clearance Sale will close Saturday night and until that time many opportunities to save will be offered.

Mechanical Monster's Troubles.

The mechanical monster, half aeroplane and half automobile, which was secured to advertise the sale, apparently did not thrive on the pure air of Ulster county for during its brief stay in this vicinity it experienced numerous misadventures and finally contracted such a serious ailment that it was put out of the running. However, by that time the sale was under way and so unusual were the bargains being offered by the merchants that a mechanical monster was no longer needed to tell the people of Ulster county that Kingston merchants were holding the one big sale of the year.

Subsides On Saugerties Road.

The mechanical monster roared into town two days late, having suffered a broken axle on the way to Kingston. Shortly after arriving here it appeared on the streets at intervals and also made several excursions into the country districts where it roared out a message of the sale. However, after a few excursions into the country the roaring monster subsided at Saugerties with another broken axle and other internal ailments. These again skillfully doctored up, found the monster on the road but again the internal ailments developed. The machine ran off the road and was seriously injured. All day the big contraption peacefully lay at rest along the Saugerties road near the Green Shingle Inn and then with the sale well under way and everyone aware that the Kingston merchants were again offering something unusual the crowds turned their attention to the sale and forgot the monster. The aeroplane-automobile slipped away and that is why many people never saw the machine or heard its mighty roar.

Penny Company Department Store Comes to Kingston

Operators of Chain of Department Stores Secure Lease of Wall Street Property and Will Take Possession April 1—Ready to Open for Business September 1.

Charles B. Everett, owner of the property located at 318-320 Wall street, has just returned from New York city where he concluded negotiations with the J. C. Penny Company, operators of a large chain of department stores, whereby the Penny company has taken over under lease the property on Wall street for a term of years. The premises at present are occupied by the Everett hardware store and the Grand Union grocery store. Several days ago the hardware stock was placed on sale and the sale of the stock is now in progress. The Grand Union store, which occupies the store at 318 Wall street, will also be compelled to vacate.

The J. C. Penny Company upon taking possession of the property on April first when its lease goes into effect, will immediately begin alterations and improvements to make the present two stores into one to house the business. A new front will be installed and the Penny Company expects to be ready to open for business by September 1.

A lease for the premises has been signed and under the terms of the lease the entire property will be turned over to the Penny Company on April 1.

The Penny Company will operate a department store including both men's and women's apparel departments. It is one of the large chain store companies operating in many of the larger cities of the country and for some time the company has been considering locating a store in Kingston as soon as an advantageous location could be found.

BANS WAR SCENES IN COMEDY OR DRAMA

Paris, Jan. 18 (AP).—War scenes can no longer be dragged into French motion pictures to "put over" imaginary comedy or drama. The government has instructed the censor to refuse to approve such pictures "because of the tragic events of the war which recall so much tragedy and suffering should not be travestied for commercial ends."

The war, if presented in an authentic and historical way, however, is not under ban.

The censor recently barred a number of war pictures from the Rhineland on the ground that they were offensive to French ideals. This was done in pursuance of a long standing order for the closest supervision of films being sent into the occupied territory.

LIQUORS TAKEN FROM DINERS ABOARD BERLIN

New York, Jan. 18 (AP).—The New York Times today says that more than 400 members and guests of the Hoboken, N. J., Chamber of Commerce who attended a dinner aboard the North German Lloyd liner Berlin last night, were searched for liquor at the pier gates by a special squad of customs officers.

The raid netted the officers more than two dozen bottles of brandy, liquors and champagne, but names of the owners were not taken and no arrests were made. The dinner was attended by business men, officials, and lawyers, including a supreme court justice, and considerable indignation was expressed over the proceedings.

CARLOAD OF FIREWORKS EXPLODE, KILLING TWO

Bombay, India, Jan. 18 (AP).—A carload of fireworks being taken to Udaipur for the celebrations in connection with the wedding of the heir apparent of Udaipur to the daughter of a petty chief of the state of Jodhpur, exploded today and two persons were killed.

This was regarded as a divine warning against the marriage, which is meeting much opposition, as the bridegroom is a semi-invalid of fifty and already married. The prospective bride is only 17 and she is understood to be on a hunger strike.

The sum of £20,000 (roughly $100,000) is being spent on the celebration, at which the guests will number 700.

NON-STOP FLIGHT FROM DETROIT TO HAVANA

Detroit, Jan. 18 (AP).—Austin F. Bement, Detroit advertising man, and Leonard S. Flo, chief pilot for a Detroit flying club, took off from Selfridge Field at 10:42 a. m. today on a proposed non-stop flight to Havana, Cuba.

Bement announced he was making the trip "for a few days' vacation."

DURKIN HANDCUFFED TO BARS OF HIS CELL

Chicago, Jan. 18 (AP).—Martin Durkin, one of the most notorious and picturesque of a long list of Chicago gunmen, was handcuffed to the bars of his penitentiary cell today, after discovery in his possession of a long knife, fashioned from a file.

Durkin is serving a 35 year sentence for murder.

Four Year Term Comes Up Again

Democratic Leaders Introduce Four-Year Term for Governor, Proposing Elections in Non-Presidential Years.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 18 (AP).—The question of a four-year term for governor, defeated at the polls last year according to Democratic leaders because the constitutional amendment intended to carry it out provided for elections in presidential year, again came before the Legislature today in a resolution offered by Democratic leaders for both houses, proposing elections in non-presidential years.

The measure, embracing the same principle for which the Democrats have fought for the past four years, was presented by Senator Barnard Downing and Assemblyman Maurice Bloch, minority leaders of their respective houses. If approved by the 1928 Legislature it would have to go before the 1929 legislative body again, and then would be submitted to the voters in the fall of that year.

In a joint statement explaining the resolution, the introducers declared that "if the Republican party was sincere last fall when it energetically endorsed the principle of the four-year term only to have the form it cherished knocked down by popular vote, it should be willing to bow to the will of the people and join with us in our resolution to submit it in a new form that will be acceptable to the people of the state.

"The four-year term itself has not been an issue. The Republican form was in issue and the form was rejected. Common sense dictates that the Democratic form now be given an opportunity before the people. The mandate of the people was unmistakable, they voted not against the principle of the four-year term. What they did vote against was the principle of confusing state and national elections."

The statement called attention also to the fact that even strongly Republican counties went against the proposed amendment in its form of last year. A feature of the campaign against the proposal was the taking of the stump by Governor Smith, who in a series of debates with Senator John Knight, Republican leader of the upper house, and in separate addresses, vigorously opposed the proposal as it stood. The Republicans have since contended that the vote was an indication of the people's unwillingness to have a four-year term, but this the Democratic leaders denied in their statement today.

Cohoes Democrats Declare Truce

Cohoes, N. Y., Jan. 18 (AP).—The warring Democratic factions in the Cohoes city government declared a truce last night and the three members of the board of aldermen who had been missing since New Year's took their seats.

The truce was arranged at a conference of city and county Democratic leaders.

Mayor Daniel J. Cosgro's candidate for president of the common council, Charles J. Neeson, was elected, although the three aldermen who had been in hiding voted against him.

The disappearance of the three members of the board of aldermen on the eve of the organization meeting of the city government held up the functioning of the city government for 17 days. They absented themselves in the hope that in consequence of their non-appearance Mayor Cosgro's program for the election of Mr. Neeson might be blocked. The absentees belong to a faction of the city Democracy hostile to the section headed by Mayor Cosgro.

Chamberlin on Lecture Tour

New York, Jan. 18 (AP).—Abandoning for the present his plans for an airplane tour of the country, Clarence D. Chamberlin announced today he would go to Philadelphia by train tonight and would fly from there to four other cities in Pennsylvania on the first lap of a lecture tour.

His itinerary includes Allentown, Harrisburg, Altoona, Johnstown and Greensburg. On January 28 he will return to New York to prepare for another attempt to establish a new duration flight record.

Thereafter he will resume his lecture tour, flying to several cities in the south and to Havana, Cuba, where he is scheduled to appear late next month.

Abermethy and Agnes A. Clare, bookkeepers; Louise Mellert, stenographer. Edward Weber, Sr., was elected a trustee to fill the vacancy caused by the death of John S. Thompson.

Community Hotel Elects Officers at Annual Meeting

John H. Gregory Chosen President at Meeting of Directors—Treasurer's Report Shows Governor Clinton Hotel Business Is Steadily Gaining—No More Treasury Stock For Sale.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Kingston Community Hotel Corporation held in the Coffee Shop at the Governor Clinton Hotel Tuesday evening the following directors were elected: Peter A. Black, Arthur J. Burns, William A. Carl, John H. Gregory, J. L. Kincaid, Edward Olmsted, Frank R. Powley, Arthur H. Wicks and Lewis O. Tirrell. Eugene B. Carey and Max L. Reben were reelected inspectors of election.

The directors later in the evening elected John H. Gregory, president; Senator Arthur H. Wicks, vice president; Arthur J. Burns, secretary, and Frank R. Powley, treasurer.

The annual report of the treasurer, Frank R. Powley was as follows:

Assets.

Current:
Cash in Bank on Hand		$ 31,271.92
Accounts Receivable (Less Reserve)		3,200.73
Inventories		3,121.42
Total Current Assets		$ 37,594.07
Fixed: Schedule A-4
Land	$ 70,022.76
Buildings	459,249.38
Furnishings and Equipment	$5,324.87
	$614,597.01
Less Reserve for Depreciation	21,508.00
Total Fixed Assets	$593,089.01
Prepaid and Deferred Accounts	$ 21,801.23
Total Assets	$652,484.31

Liabilities.

Current and Accrued:
Accounts Payable	$ 4,678.92
Notes Payable	45,000.00
Accrued Accounts	3,778.60
Total Current and Accrued Liabilities		$ 53,457.52
Fixed:
Mortgages		$180,500.00
Total Fixed Liabilities		$180,500.00
Capital Stock		382,680.00
Surplus		35,846.79
Total Liabilities		$652,484.31

The balances given in the above report were taken after the payment of a three per cent dividend on the preferred stock. In addition to this it is important to know that the mortgage has already been reduced $9,500 and is to be reduced each year until it has been paid in full.

In opening the meeting President Gregory congratulated the stockholders on the success of the hotel and its brilliant prospects for the future. The rebuilding of the brick building formerly occupied by Brown & Dressel is in progress and will cost about $45,000. The rentals will pay a good revenue on the investment and the building will remove an eyesore and add greatly to the attractiveness of the hotel proper.

In the course of his remarks President Gregory spoke of the work done by the corporation's first president, the late Herbert Carl, to whose efforts and unflagging zeal and interest much of the success of the enterprise is due.

Although not included in the reports, it was disclosed at the meeting that while in 1926 the hotel lost $2,000 in November, $3,900 in December and $4,000 in January, in November, 1927, it made a net profit of $1,500 lost only $2,000 in December and gives promise of almost breaking even in the present month.

There is no more treasury stock for sale at this time, as the corporation now has ample capital, and those desiring to invest in the stock will be limited to such stock as they may be able to pick up from some stockholder who desires to sell. The stock offered through the agency of Max L. Reben early last summer was the last treasury stock sold and Mr. Reben ceased to offer it after he had sold sufficient to meet the needs of the corporation. As will be seen by the report of the treasurer, the total of outstanding preferred stock is $382,000. Unless additional capital should be required for building an annex, no more treasury stock is likely to be offered in future.

It was also once more made very clear that the American Hotels Corporation holds no preferred stock and therefore did not receive one penny of the dividend paid in December. Nor can that corporation receive any income from the hotel until dividends are paid on the common stock, which cost nobody anything but was given as a bonus with the preferred stock.

POULTRY SHOW AT MADISON SQUARE GARDEN.

New York, Jan. 18 (AP).—The cackle of hens will resound through Madison Square Garden the next five days with the opening today of the 39th annual poultry show.

Among the unusual exhibits are two hens, about 15 years old, which have lived all their lives on the roof of a Lexington avenue apartment house in blissful ignorance of a city ordinance prohibiting the keeping of hens on the roofs of city dwellings.

A Grass Fire Tuesday.

Tuesday afternoon the fire department was called out for a grass fire off West Chestnut street.

Preparing Drive Against Sandino

Marine Corps Planes Drop Heavy Bombs Driving Rebels From Outposts—Will Soon Force Rebel Leaders To Fight or Withdraw.

Managua, Jan. 18 (AP).—Harrassed by three days of persistent and heavy bombing from Marine corps planes, rebel outposts today fled from San Albino region, marine headquarters announced. The announcement was made upon the return of airplane patrols from the region where the marines are massing for a drive against the rebel General Augustino Sandino.

A combat patrol also reported there was no evidence in the Quilali district of rebel activities. It was believed that Sandino's forces have retired to El Chipote, which he made his headquarters after the marines took Quilali.

A company of marines went to Matagalpa to strengthen the garrison there.

The explosion of two bombs is thought to have warned Sandino's followers to leave Jinotega Sunday. It was reported that Sandino left El Chipote stating he would go to Jinotega and that his arrival would be announced by the explosion of two bombs. The explosion took place as forecast. When Sandino did not appear it was believed that this was a warning to his cohorts.

With the arrival of Major General John A. Lejeune, commander of the marines, and Brig-General Logan Feland, and with United States ships daily disembarking marines and supplies, airplanes and ammunitions at Corinto, Nicaragua is assuming the military appearance which it had last February when more than 4,000 bluejackets and marines occupied all the important cities of Nicaragua and guarded the national railway.

Sandino's policy is to strike and harrass the marines at every opportunity, never fighting in the open. Withdrawing to a remote and inaccessible region, Sandino gathered together more than 500 men, well armed and mounted, who consider their leader a hero. There are few cases of desertion.

With the arrival of additional marines and more equipment, officials here say a drive will be begun on Sandino soon and he will be forced to fight or withdraw from Nicaragua. It is deemed essential that he be driven out or defeated before the elections can be held. Also, Sandino's presence in Nicaragua is causing considerable unrest among Nicaraguans, as they fear the revolt may spread.

Criminal Cases In County Court

County court convened at 10 o'clock this morning at which time the criminal work was taken up. Peter Van Leuven of Gardiner was arraigned on a charge of burglary, third degree, under an indictment found last October. He desired to enter a plea of guilty to unlawfully entering a building and that plea being acceptable to District Attorney Traver, the court imposed a sentence of 60 days in the county jail.

Mr. Traver then moved the trial of the indictment against Samuel Adams, a colored youth, who is charged with grand larceny, first degree. Chris J. Flanagan appeared for Adams and the selecting of a jury was commenced.

It is alleged that Adams took a roll from a man named Leskie, in the lower part of the city last October.

Before the selection of a jury was commenced Mr. Flanagan moved to dismiss the indictment on the grounds that it did not allege a specific charge against defendant or state the particular section of the Penal law under which he was charged. The motion was denied by the court.

In the case of The People vs. Clark Winne, the witnesses were dismissed and the case will be disposed of without trial.

Rondout Creek Is Free of Ice

The extremely moderate weather has cleared the Rondout creek of ice, and hopes for an ice harvest this winter appear doubtful at present. In the Hudson river off Kingston Point the only ice encountered is moving ice, and the ferry Transport is making trips close to schedule. The Central Hudson Line boats are experiencing no difficulty in their daily runs between this city and New York.

During the cold weather earlier in the month there was ice several inches thick in the Rondout creek, but today there is not even a cake of floating ice in the stream.

The moderate weather has also interfered with the cutting and harvesting of ice on the small streams and ponds, and unless colder weather follows the chances of harvesting enough natural ice in this vicinity to supply the local trade appear slim.

Joyce-Schirick Post Meeting.

A special mass meeting of all members of Joyce-Schirick Post, No. 1,386, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will be held at the meeting rooms Thursday evening, January 19. All members are requested to be present. Immediate action is to be taken on some very important matters which will be a surprise to all members. A big time is assured all members.

Benedictine Hospital Holds Annual Meeting

Reports Show 2,099 Patients Received Treatment There During 1927—Infants Born in Hospital Numbered 142—Free Treatment Given to 102 Patients for 2,562 Days—Financial Report Shows Deficit of $260.67.

The annual staff meeting of the Benedictine Hospital was held Monday evening, January 16. In spite of the inclemency of the weather, the meeting was well attended. After the proceedings of the executive session dinner was served by the Sisters.

The Very Reverend Joseph R. Scully, Dean, president of the institution, presided and read the statistical and financial reports of the year. He spoke of the rapid and aptable progress made in the institution during the past year. Father Scully stressed the point that inasmuch as so much had been accomplished in the past months there was much to be expected of the future. He expressed his delight at the wonderful spirit shown at the recent staff meetings and encouraged the doctors to continue giving of their time and labor in order to establish a professional and scientific standard in the hospital.

Father Scully recounted with pleasure the efforts put forth by the hospital to provide the doctors with the very best facilities to aid them in giving efficient and effective care to their patients. He urged the doctors to keep up the big spirit of cooperation which is so plainly evident throughout the hospital. Father Scully said he felt confident that much would be accomplished when all worked together with but one end and object in view—the relief of suffering humanity. He spoke especially of the interest shown by the citizens of Kingston when called upon to attend the meetings to assist in the celebration of the 25th anniversary of the hospital. He farther explained that on account of conditions in the city the campaign was postponed until the latter part of April or early in May.

President on Way To Washington

Train Stops at Jacksonville While Party Makes Auto Trip Over City—Will Hit Direct Line For National Capital.

President Coolidge's Special Train en route to Washington, Jan. 18 (AP).—Leaving mild weather and tropical sunshine behind, President Coolidge forged northward today toward Washington to face the accumulation of work which he forsook to make his journey to Cuba.

With Mrs. Coolidge, Secretary Kellogg and Secretary Wilbur aboard, his special train sped through lower Florida during the night for Jacksonville to make its only formal stop before noon.

There he had a program which called for an hour's automobile drive to interesting parts of the city. From Jacksonville the President was to hit a direct line for Washington with only a few operating stops.

Although substantial crowds were on hand to wave a greeting as Mr. Coolidge's train passed through Florida cities, the cheers seemed like an anti-climax to the tumultuous welcome he had received in Havana.

The President set foot on American soil again yesterday in the early afternoon when the cruiser Memphis docked at Key West. There he sandwiched in an automobile tour over the island city while the crew of the Memphis loaded the luggage of his party on the special train which had drawn up on the wharf.

There also were numerous gifts of fruits and flowers presented to Mr. Coolidge and his guests by President Machado. A huge basket of white Cuban roses, the parting gift of Senora Machado to Mrs. Coolidge, is to be taken to the White House.

At Jacksonville.

Jacksonville, Fla., Jan. 18 (AP).—The special train bearing President Coolidge homeward from his Cuban journey arrived here at 9 a. m. today. The train was halted for an hour while the presidential party made a hurried automobile trip over the city.

WILTWYCK HOSE COMPANY MEETING AND BANQUET

On Thursday evening at 8 o'clock the annual meeting and banquet of Wiltwyck Hose Company No. 1, will take place and from the number of reply cards returned, the largest attendance that the company has had in a number of years will be present. A number of life members from out of town have signified their intention to be present.

Through the courtesy of one of the life members a copper nozzle which was used during the year 1857 will be exhibited to the members. The nozzle stands about six feet high without the tip and will no doubt be a great curiosity to the younger members of the company. Paul Purcell's orchestra will furnish music during the evening.

Any member of the company who may not have received a notice of the meeting should notify the secretary of his intention to attend. The matter of celebrating the 50th anniversary of the incorporation of the company will also be discussed and plans will be made to make this celebration a noteworthy one.

HOPE TO UNCOVER TRACES OF "LOST" TRIBE

Washington, Jan. 18 (AP).—Hope of uncovering traces of a "lost" tribe of Indians, the Calusa, which disappeared about 100 years ago after having played a dominant part in the history of southern Florida for more than three centuries, is taking a Smithsonian Institute expedition and Henry B. Collins, Jr., to that state to excavate newly discovered mounds.

An account of a battle in 1513 in which 50 canoes filled with Calusa braves attacked Ponce De Leon and prevented him from landing his forces along their coast is history's earliest mention of the tribe.

About 100 years ago all traces of the tribe disappeared although it has been suggested that it might have been represented in a tribe of so-called "Choctaw Indians" who inhabited Florida in 1847.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 18 (AP)—State camps for needy children are the object of a bill and a resolution introduced in the assembly Tuesday by Mrs. J. Strobl, Democrat, of New York.

STATE FISH HATCHERY AT LINLITHGO BURNED

The state fish hatchery situated in Linlithgo, Columbia county, with a large quantity of small fish and millions of trout eggs in large vats were destroyed by fire Monday morning. The damage caused by the fire, which also destroyed an ice house on the property, was not estimated. The hatchery, which was of frame construction, about 50 feet in width and 150 feet in length, was built about twenty years ago and had all modern equipment. The ice house was filled with ice used in the shipping of fish.

$15,000 FIRE LOSS AT STATE FARM FOR BOYS

The garage and barn storing the winter crops of the New York State Farm for Boys about a mile north of Valatie, Columbia county, were destroyed by fire Saturday evening. It is estimated that the damage will amount to about $15,000. The fire, which started in the garage as an automobile was being filled with gasoline by the light of a lantern, ignited the roof of the home where 200 boys are kept but firemen from Valatie and Niverville quenched it with chemicals.

Besides the speeches made by Mr. Cobb and other prominent writers and educationalists, a special adaptation of one of O. Henry's stories, "A Little Spark in Carnegie Trust," will be presented by a Broadway cast under the direction of Daly Parkman. This is the Ampico hour of music during which Mieczyslaw Munz, Polish pianist, will be the guest artist. Ed Smalle, popular radio entertainer is scheduled to sing the laughable old-style ballad, "My Old New Jersey Home," in the half hour Dodge presentation through WEAF and the Red network at 8:00 o'clock. Recipe to Preserve Children's Lives.

The following recipe appeared in a Health Bulletin and was written by a Miss Williamson:

Take one large grassy field, one-half dozen children, two or three small dogs, a pinch of brook and some pebbles. Mix the children and dogs well together and put them in the field, stirring constantly. Pour the brook over the pebbles; sprinkle the field with flowers; spread over all a deep blue sky and bake in the hot sun. When brown, remove and set to cool in a bathtub.

Washington, D. C., is famous for its domes—marble, teapot and ivory.

Bootlegger (to minister)—Here's $10 I am going to give you, but first I want to say that I got it by selling illegal whiskey. Will you accept it?

Minister—Sure! The devil has had it long enough. It's time the Lord had it awhile.

Don't Quit.

When things go wrong, as they sometimes will;
When the road you are trudging seems all up-hill;
When the funds are low, and the debts are high;
And you want to smile—but you have to sigh;
When care is pressing you down a bit,
Rest, if you must—but, DON'T YOU QUIT.

"I may be down, but I'm not out," jerred Tunney, as he rose at the count of nine.

"The way to sleep," says a scientist, "is to think of nothing," but this is a mistake. The way to sleep is to think it is time to get up.

Luedtke Heads Legion Scout Work

The many friends of Edward J. Luedtke, a member of Kingston Post of the American Legion and scoutmaster of Troop 10, American Legion Boy Scouts, will be glad to learn that he has been honored by the state commander of the American Legion in being named chairman of the New York State Boy Scout Committee of the Legion.

Mr. Luedtke has made an enviable name for himself in Ulster county in Boy Scout work. If any proof of his energy and ability were needed, the remarkable progress of the American Legion Troop of 56 boys in the four months of its existence supplies it.

There were 95 Legion posts in New York state sponsoring Boy Scout troops last August. Boy Scout work in the Legion has always been directed by the chairman of the state committee on Americanism and education. The state commander, hearing of the splendid work of the troop in Kingston Post, and learning of Mr. Luedtke's great interest and unusual ability in scouting, asked the local man to take up the work of interesting all Legion posts in New York state in this work. It will be Mr. Luedtke's task to induce every Legion post in New York state to sponsor a troop of Boy Scouts, and then to organize the scout work in the Legion on a sound, efficient basis.

Mr. Luedtke has called a meeting of his state committee for January 21 in Albany, where plans will be formulated to carry on his program for the year.

Mid-Year Graduation.

On Friday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock the mid-year graduation exercises of the grade schools of Kingston will be held at the high school auditorium. A large class will be graduated for the high school and just as pleasing a program will be presented as at the summer commencement.

Shoots Seven on Dice; Wins Freedom in Court

Birmingham, Ala.—Haled before Judge H. B. Abercrombie, in the Birmingham court of misdemeanors, a negro miscreant charged with shooting dice, was offered the chance to "pass" his way to freedom.

Once his knees went the defendant with a pair of dice. From his perch on the bench Judge "Ab" peered down at the ivories clicking over the courtroom floor. A dozen wide-eyed spectators leaned forward to watch the outcome.

"Seven it is!" exclaimed the prisoner.

And the jurist who meets residents of Birmingham's Negro quarter on grounds with which they are familiar pointed a finger at the kneeling man and gave his decision: "Not guilty."

Several times the judge has cut cards with prisoners of whose guilt he had some doubt. His colleagues recognize him as an authority on the psychology of the negroes with whom he often deals.

Once, when a prisoner pleaded guilty to a minor offense, Judge "Ab" directed him to get down on his knees and pray for forgiveness. A feeble voice came up.

"Louder!" directed the court. The low tone went into a sturdy bass for five minutes, and the prisoner was discharged.

Mother's Long Sleep Is Broken by Son's Violin

Long Beach, Calif.—A music treatment given by her son and his friend was accredited by the physician of Mrs. Ethel Baldwin, for her recovery of consciousness after lying in a coma for 150 hours.

Mrs. Baldwin lapsed into a coma, following the death of her husband. Discovery by Durant Baldwin, her son, who is a violinist, that his mother's hands moved when he and a friend, who is a pianist, played together, brought orders from Dr. C. E. Sheden to continue the music.

The music was continued for about 40 hours with the exception of periods when the radio was used. Mrs. Baldwin finally regained consciousness. She needs only rest to assure recovery.

Fred Christensen, who won the title at the live stock exposition in Chicago, is getting many proposals, but when he considers matrimony there is little chance for anybody except a pretty girl from home who can cook.

Altamaris Had Narrow Escape

As Car Skidded on Broadway Hill Monday Night and Backed Down East Pierpont Hill—Mrs. Altamari Fell From Car.

Mr. and Mrs. Amedo Altamari of 7 Wurts street had a narrow escape from serious injury and their automobile was badly damaged Monday evening when their car skidded on the icy pavement of the Broadway hill, backed down the East Pierpont street hill and into a pole. Mrs. Altamari, who fell from the car, was saved from falling under the wheels by her husband, who grasped her clothes with one hand while he guided the car with the other.

They were driving up the Broadway hill at the time but owing to the glare of ice were unable to proceed and the car started backing and swung up over the curb and began to back down the steep East Pierpont street hill.

Mr. Altamari, realizing the danger, told his wife to get out of the car while he tried to hold it with the brakes, and as she made the attempt she slipped and fell. She grasped the car door and was dragged with the car down the hill. The strain was such that she fainted and her husband, seeing her danger, leaned out and grasped hold of her coat, preventing her body from sliding under the wheels, while with the other hand on the steering wheel he guided the car as best he could until it crashed into a telephone pole at the bottom of the hill.

Mrs. P. Augustine took Mrs. Altamari into her house and cared for her until she was well enough to return home. Mrs. Altamari was fortunate in escaping with but a few bruises. The car was considerably damaged.

The annual election of directors was held at the Chamber of Commerce rooms Tuesday evening. As a result of this election the tellers' committee reported that William Byrne, Lewis Brown and David Burgerin were elected members of the board of directors. It is most gratifying to the chamber to have these men accept their election and agree to act.

The board of directors will meet on Friday of this week to elect officers for the coming year. The organization meeting was necessarily postponed owing to the absence from the city of Mr. Flanagan, who has served the chamber so faithfully as president for the past year.

All members of the chamber and their friends are urged to make their reservations for the Annual Dinner Meeting, which will be held next Tuesday, January 24, at the Governor Clinton Hotel. The hotel management have promised a fine dinner and the balance of the program will be short and interesting.

The speaker of the evening, Harry Collins Spillman, was at the dinner last year and made so favorable an impression that many requests were made to give the members a chance to hear him again. A fine musical program has also been arranged for to fill out the balance of the evening.

REDEEMER LUTHERAN CHURCH ACTIVITIES

An airplane contest will begin in Redeemer Lutheran Bible school on Sunday morning to stimulate better attendance and the increasing of the enrollment. An airplane chart, consisting of a map of the world, has been obtained. Each class is given an airplane. The school is divided in two opposing sides according to classes. The losing side will entertain the winners. The contest will end on Easter Sunday. Credits are given for new members, regular attendance, punctuality and increased offerings. Henry Ditus and John Houghtaling are in charge of the contest.

It is expected that the new Parish School Hymnals published by the United Lutheran Church that have been ordered will be received by Sunday.

Fifteen posters were made by members of the intermediate Luther League in the "Join Our League" poster contest. It was difficult to select the winner. Instead of one prize being given as planned it was necessary to give three. Elsie Seitz won first prize. The other prizes were won by Evelyn Kellner and Ruth Greenburg.

The Intermediate League will rehearse on Saturday afternoon for the Missionary service to be given in the church on Sunday evening, January 29. Scrap books will be made on Saturday afternoon for the children in the home.

KINGSTON, N. Y., Jan. 18, 1928.

President Coolidge "has been offered a position with a well known New York law firm" and other offers a-plenty will follow. But first of all he is likely to accept his own offer of a vacation in Vermont to be chiefly devoted to whittling.

The news that Miss Helen Witzel of Wisconsin has already made $1,200 this winter trapping fur-bearing animals, has called editorial attention to the alleged fact that girl trappers are rare. Miss Witzel's kind may be, but there are wary youths under the impression that another kind is rather plentiful.

Referring to political party harmony, Mr. Brennan of Illinois says that harmony is usually found in its full flower only in graveyards, and the trouble is that Democrats are by nature men of strong views and a desire to state them. He might have added that the same is perhaps even more true of Democratic women. For, while National Chairman Shaver is working desperately for harmony, his wife gets up and actually reads out of the Democratic party its whole anti-Volstead wing. The Republicans can be trusted to forget their differences when the battle for the Presidency is on, but, as Mr. Brennan seems to intimate, only the grave seems to be sufficient to still the contending Democratic tongue.

WORLD WAR ORIGINS.

The government of France has decided to publish documents from the archives of the foreign office relating to the origin of the World War, and a committee of 47, including prominent historians and diplomats, has been appointed to undertake the task of selecting and arranging.

There are times when we think it would be more important to discuss the possible causes of future wars, with a view to preventing them, than to squabble over the causes of the World War. So far most discussions of those causes result in squabbles, because naturally enough the belligerents all see their own side most clearly and present it as the only side.

Yet if all the countries that participated in the World War undertook this task of publishing their documents relating to the origins of the war, it might eventually be seen that the causes were not confined to documents, treaties and alliances. Then people might begin to seek farther back for the truth. And the truth might free the world of a lot of bugbears which have hung over it since 1914-1918.

GYMNASTICS FOR EVERY CHILD.

No day is quite complete without a Mussolini decree. One of his recent edicts made games and gymnastics obligatory in all elementary and secondary schools. Pupils hereafter will have to pass examinations in such work as well as in arithmetic or history. If equipment is too expensive for poor parents, state aid will be given, so that no excuse except physical inability can be given for refraining from athletic activity.

It is only in our own higher institutions of learning that such a decree would work much of a change. In them, too frequently in the past, students have divided into two groups—a large group that merely looked on while a small group engaged in competitive sports. Considerable progress has already been made toward remedying that evil in many schools where athletic directors have inaugurated games and contests between class teams and other small groups.

In our elementary and secondary schools there is gymnasium work that includes almost every pupil. In addition to that there is a national interest in outdoor fun that keeps most youngsters exercising in the open for a reasonable part of every day. Tennis, golf, riding, bicycling, swimming, with skating and hockey in the winter, are widely participated in.

PAN-AMERICAN POLICY.

Believing that the time has come for a concrete expression, and that "if our delegation at Havana confines itself to speechmaking and fails to make any proposal embodying in definite and juridical form the principles of Pan-Americanism" the conference would fail of desired results, the Foreign Policy Association has submitted to the Washington administration the following programme for the conference at Havana. 1. A change in the [illegible] policy of the United States which now [illegible] the recognition of any government in Latin America that has come into power through a coup d'etat. 2. The establishment of a permanent arbitral tribunal between the United States and the Latin-American nations [illegible] to hold annual or biennial sessions. 3. The announcement of a [illegible] doctrine stating that the United States will not interfere in Latin-American affairs without the [illegible] the Governing Board of the Pan-American Union.

No doubt such proposals made by our delegates would help to "recapture" the good will of our Latin-American neighbors, but any actual agreements of this sort would seem to be too much to expect, for they are not in harmony with the long standing American policy of avoiding international agreements and remaining free to do what we may prefer to do when the time comes. It was this favored policy as well as anti-Wilson partisanship that kept the United States out of the League of Nations. It was this that caused our delegates to reject the "Pena doctrine" at the second Pan-American Conference at Mexico City in 1901. Latin-Americans wanted to complete the Monroe doctrine forbidding European aggression by adding the Diaz doctrine forbidding the aggression of any American republic at the expense of any other, but our delegates would not consent. Of course strong arguments can be offered in favor of retaining a free hand for this country whatever the circumstances, but it is obvious that some of the single-handed exercises of that freedom in the past are responsible for Latin-American suspicion and distrust.

THAT BODY OF YOURS

By James W. Barton, M.D.

(Registered in accordance with the Copyright Act.)

A WONDERFUL VEGETABLE.

You have perhaps read that a certain common vegetable is very rich in iron, that it has more of Vitamin A than any other known vegetable that has been investigated, and when fresh, weight for weight, is richer than butter.

Weight for weight also it is as rich as milk in Vitamin B.

It contains some Vitamin C.

Now when you remember that Vitamins are important in that they seem to bring out in each individual food its very best values, you can see that this vegetable must be worth much to that body of yours.

Further, as it is a bulky vegetable with some roughage, which roughage gently irritates the walls of intestine, you can see that it will thus prevent constipation.

Further, one of the necessary elements for everybody, and for growing children particularly, is lime or calcium, and this food is likewise rich in this element.

These qualities naturally make it a most desirable food for those who are well, and a most valuable food for those whose blood needs enrichment. Thus it is a particularly valuable food in anaemia or thin blood, and also in kidney ailments.

Now what is this most valuable food?

It is just common spinach, and yet it is so important that the Journal of the American Medical Association, some months ago, devoted its leading editorial to honoring it.

Unfortunately it is not as "tasty" as some other vegetables, and thus is not eaten to the same extent.

Of course the modern housewife can help this somewhat by preparing the spinach in different ways, because when calf's liver was shown to be valuable in pernicious anaemia, immediately different ways for making it attractive to eyes and palate were discovered. At least twelve different methods, besides frying, are now being used.

We can therefore hope for some variety in preparing spinach. However the main point is that spinach and other leafy vegetables are so rich in food value and vitamins, that it is worth your while to always remember this, so that you get some at least once every day.

TWENTY AND TEN YEARS AGO.

Jan. 18, 1908.—Captain Isaac Hotaling of South Rondout had leg injured when he fell from a wagon.

Local lodges and churches omitted meetings and services until smallpox epidemic had ceased.

Osterhoudt's coal shed on Abeel street slightly damaged by fire.

Jan. 18, 1918.—Kingston observed the first of the fuel saving days as result of obeying the five days' closing order of Fuel Administrator Garfield. Many industries were affected and between 3,000 and 3,500 residents were taking an enforced vacation.

Lightless nights went into effect here to conserve coal and one-half of the ornamental lights from Washington avenue viaduct to Rondout creek were eliminated.

Andrew J. Lang appointed acting principal of School No. 5 by education board.

Ulster Equipment Ready to Remove Snow from Roads

Tractors and Trucks in Readiness to Clear Roads Whenever Snow Begins to Fall—Located in Various Parts of County for More Efficient Service.

Those who doubt the ability of the county officials to combat the winter snows and keep the roads open should visit the Kuhlmann garage on Broadway where the county is occupying temporary garage space until the county garage is built. There will be found snow removal equipment ready to go into service at a moment's notice. It was thought Monday night the equipment would be called into service, but the slight fall of sleet and warm sunshine made its use unnecessary.

Ten trucks equipped with snow plows, a five ton Holt tractor and two big Walters snow plows are ready, the gas tanks are filled and the trucks are filled with ballast to start out as soon as the snow begins to fall. Elsewhere in the county are emergency units which are kept in isolated portions of the county to care for those sections. At Veteran is a 10 ton Holt kept there to avoid the necessity of crossing frail bridges. At Gardiner is another 10 ton Holt to care for the roads in the lower section of the county and at the Albany Avenue Garage of Mr. Embree are three big Linn tractors and a 7 ton Monarch ready.

Ready for Emergency.

In former years the county has been caught without sufficient equipment to get out immediately, but this year under the direction of County Superintendent James L. Loughran and his assistant, Andrew Keefe, all of the county equipment has been placed in condition and is now ready to wheel out at the first emergency. Since the county trucks were laid up for the winter and road work stopped they have been all overhauled and placed in first class shape by the mechanics in the employ of the county. Snow removal equipment has been placed in order and every truck and piece of snow removal equipment has been painted by the county men and is now ready.

Lined up in the garage, like fire fighting equipment ready to respond to an alarm, the trucks and men are ready.

To the lighter trucks the snow plows are already attached and all but the heavy wide plows, too wide to get through the garage doors, can be put out on the roads in a moment. The big plows to be attached to the Walters plows are ready and there remains but to bolt them on the trucks.

Can Cover Wide Territory.

The Walters trucks, built especially for snow removal, appear to be a very effective means of snow removal. These big trucks, equipped with a 100 horse power motor, have a speed of 25 miles an hour and can cover a great deal of territory. They are equipped with a large plow at the front which cleans down to within a few inches of the roadway. Mounted amidship between the front and rear wheels is another plow which is manipulated by levers and can be let down to clean off the snow and ice clear to the road. This plow with the weight of the truck overhead is capable of quick and clean work without the tendency to throw the truck off the road to the ditch, a common fault with lighter equipment which works at the front of a truck. The trucks are four wheel drive and weigh six tons. One of the trucks is equipped with a crane for emergency work and handling wrecks and to assist in towing should another unit become stalled in deep drifts.

Three of the Linn tractors ready for the road with ballast weigh 15 tons each and are used for very heavy work.

In many sections of the county there are bridges which will not permit the heavy equipment to pass when fully equipped and loaded with ballast. In order to give these sections of the county service, tractors are left in those sections ready for use. The tractor located at Spring Glen and the one at Veteran are in that class.

The lack of snow thus far has given the men plenty of time to get every piece of equipment in shape and now with the machinery ready, the men are ready to go at the first emergency.

Weather Unfavorable for Roads.

Thus far the winter has been a very unfavorable one for roads of the county with constant rain and alternate thawing and freezing. In many places the macadam roads are already in bad condition with the surface rutted and full of holes. From present indications there will be plenty of work to do on the roads in the spring.

Between Port Ewen and Ulster Park on the main highway there are numerous bad spots showing up already and on the Saugerties-Mt. Marion road are many places where the road has heaved. Dirt roads have taken a vast amount of abuse and in many places during the last thaw the roads were almost impassible.

-a New ESSEX SUPER SIX

New Bodies-Larger and Roomier—New Appearance from Radiator to Tail Light-Finer Fittings-Four Wheel Brakes-High Compression-Long Life Motor & An Amazing Price

One look at the new Essex Super-Six will convince you that it will excel in popularity the Essex which has just completed the most successful year ever achieved by a six-cylinder car.

From radiator to tail light it is a smarter, more beautiful car than even the Essex which preceded it. And in performance it surpasses in smoothness, reliability, speed and ease of handling, the standard Essex owners are so proud to acclaim.

You get an impression of completeness and fine quality in the design of every detail. From the new pattern Colonial lights—the higher, narrower radiator with vertical shutters—the heavy sweeping fenders—the rubber-covered running boards—the new improved steering mechanism and the steering wheel similar in design and construction to that now used on the very latest and very highest priced cars—there is outstanding reason for pride.

The bodies are not only new and roomier but are so designed as to give a lasting, solid, rigid service. The roof is flatter—the car is bigger in fact and in appearance. Door fittings, hinges and locks are impressively substantial and lastingly beautiful.

The world's largest sale of six-cylinder cars became an Essex achievement solely because of merit.

But with all these advantages, there is also an amazing price reduction. The Sedan at $795 f. o. b. Detroit is $40 below the Sedan price of last year.

Eleanor Gunn Says

Paris.—While black coats trimmed with natural lynx are the uniform of the winter, several chic Parisiennes have recently appeared wearing gray fur as a trimming for their black coats.

Reboux continues to exploit the eyebrow hat, both in skull-caps and cut-away-brim models, the turn-down brim being cut out to uncover one eyebrow.

Royal blue crepe appears to have several smart sponsors for luncheon and tea wear, it also being occasionally seen in the evening.

Pouch handbags, on frames, and longer than they are deep, are the prevailing mode. They are usually seen either in antelope or suede.

Long necklaces or strings of colored stones, as well as Chanel's rhinestone necklace, have done much to replace pearls.

Nacre kid evening slippers vie with satins.

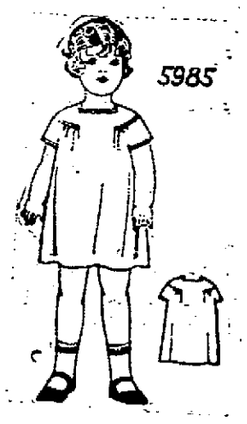

A sports hat trimmed with a leather dog leash was shown by Lewis.

Another clever hat from this same maison was trimmed with a man's cravat, there being a duplicate for wear with the sports costume for which the hat was designed. The cravats were of colored foulard, small in design and brightly colored.

Black continues to be far smarter than color for hats, coats, and day and evening dresses.

"GREAT SUCCESS IN OUR HOME"

Father John's Medicine Again Proves Its Value—For Colds, Coughs and Body Building.

"We use Father John's Medicine with great success continually in our home" writes Miss Helen Boles of 1024 Fourth St., Minneapolis, Minn., in a recent letter.

For colds and as a preventive of the more serious ailments which so often develop from the colds Father John's Medicine has come to be the standard home medicine in countless homes.

For over 70 years this medicine has proved its value and it is worth knowing that there is absolutely no alcohol nor nerve deadening drugs of any kind in any form in Father John's Medicine.

Flag for School At Chichester

Chichester, Jan. 18.—On Wednesday evening, January 11, the new public school in District No. 12, town of Shandaken, was officially dedicated. It was an occasion that will be long remembered by the residents of Chichester and adjacent communities. About fifty members of the Charles [illegible] [illegible] they [illegible] [illegible] which is located in the basement of the building. [illegible] gathered there the children then marched in and took their respective places.

The program opened with a prayer by the Rev. A. J. Colley, followed by a poem entitled "[illegible] School House and The [illegible]," which was written and very appropriately rendered by the Rev. Mr. Colley. "America" was then sung, after which the presentation of the American flag by Judge A. W. Lent, a member of the J. O. U. A. M., took place. Judge Lent spoke very feelingly of the Flag, after which the trustee arose and accepted the same on behalf of the district, and all joined in singing "The Star Spangled Banner". Mr. Myers, another member of the order, recited very pleasingly at this time, "The Flag That Betsy Made", and he received such hearty applause that he again returned to the platform and gave "The Capture of Stony Point". S. B. Schwarzwaelder, the trustee, then presented the Holy Bible with a few very fitting remarks, after which R. R. Bennett, the principal, expressed his appreciation for the Bible and flag on behalf of the teachers and the pupils of the school. The exercises were brought to a close with a prayer by the Rev. D. B. MacBain.

The trustee extended an invitation to everyone to go to the Chichester Social Hall where the band gave a concert and refreshments were served. During the evening, Fred E. Parker, extension agent of the J. O. U. A. M., spoke along the lines of extending the organization in this community. The evening came to a close at 11:30, with everyone feeling that it had been one well spent, especially the dedication of this wonderful new school building, which would be an asset to any rural community.

GOOD SAMARITAN IS REWARDED BY NEGRO

Commander Albert C. Robillard of Beacon Post, American Legion, will receive Henry Graham's government insurance bonus policy because he befriended the negro brickyard worker and World War veteran on several occasions. Graham died at Cold Spring recently. Robillard, who is a deputy sheriff and connected with the brickyard north of Beacon where the negro was employed, had on several occasions let Graham have money until he received his pay. He learned that the man was a veteran of the World War and had him apply for his bonus. In making out the papers Graham named Robillard as beneficiary because he had neither family or friends. He was told by the commander that at any time he wished he could name another. Graham never changed the beneficiary. Commander Robillard arranged for his funeral.

Normal Graduate At Berea College

New Paltz State Normal School is represented through a member of its class of 1905, Miss Helen H. Dingman, a native of Spring Valley, N. Y., in an educational enterprise which is being watched with keen interest by educators throughout the country. On January 4 at Berea College, Berea, Ky., she opened as its director the fourth annual session of the free "Opportunity School" of that institution. This school, based on the Danish folk high school principles of adult education, will continue until January 30. On February 4 Miss Dingman will sail on the Hellig Olav of the Scandinavian-American line to spend nearly four months in first hand study of the methods of adult education in Finland, Denmark, Norway and Sweden. She will return in June.

Each fall Miss Dingman in connection with the extension service in Berea College and her work as director of service to mountain schools, makes a tour of isolated mountain communities as well as of other points less remote. She has recently completed her fourth annual tour of this kind. Each season's work means traveling hundreds of miles on horseback, on foot, in mail hacks, and in "flivvers." Miss Dingman is the welcome guest at scores of mountain cabins as well as in the homes of the more well-to-do inhabitants of that region where dwell the direct descendents of the pioneers. Besides these duties Miss Dingman teaches in the Normal school of Berea College and is editor of "Mountain Life and Work," a quarterly magazine dealing with educational and social problems and progress in the Southern mountains.

HOME SERVICE CLASSES MONTHLY AT ROSENDALE

Home service classes will be held on the third Friday of each month in the Rosendale office of the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation instead of the first Friday as had been previously arranged. An interesting demonstration on "Giving individuality to fritters, croquettes, etc.," will be given at the cookery class this week on Friday at 2:30 by Miss Nellie Davenport, home service director. Besides the demonstration which will include fritters, croquettes, doughnuts and timbales, there will be a discussion on the general procedure for deep fat frying, giving the types of fat to be used, and the temperature necessary for frying.

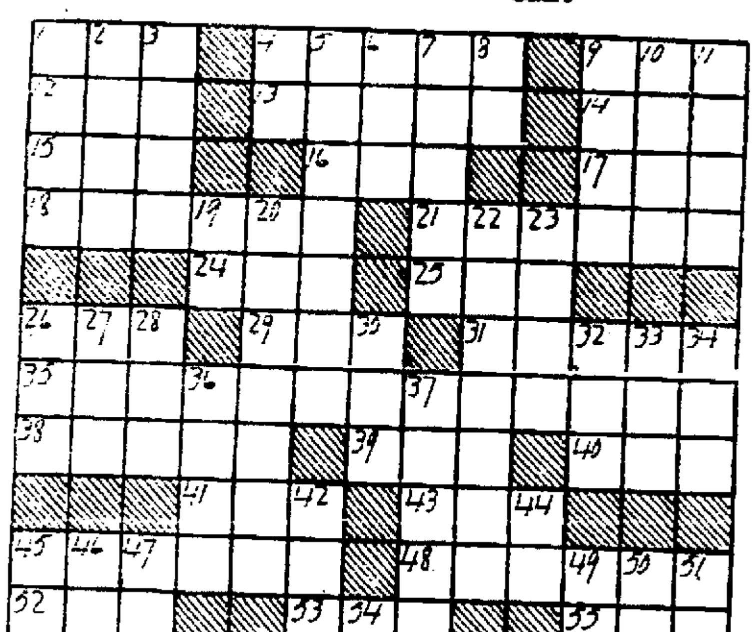

Printed sheets of the recipes demonstrated are distributed to each class member. The housewife is sure to find some new suggestions as to deep fat frying at this demonstration. All are invited and welcome to attend this class.

Van Buren Ready For Filipino

Local Boxer Will Be in Shape for Aboba Monday Night—Three Other Local Boys on the Card.

Joe Van Buren of the local branch of the 104th Field Artillery is set for his tilt with Tommy Aboba, flashy Filipino boxer of the 102nd Medical Corps, at the local armory, Monday, January 23. Van Buren has been working hard for the meeting while Aboba has been in the ring much since the starting of the boxing season.

Although the local boxer has not met men of Aboba's calibre in the past he is expected to exhibit his best wares when the two climb into the squared circle at the armory next Monday night. Aboba is well known to local fandom as a fast man. He proved that he has the goods when he met Red Edgerton here on two previous occasions. He could not overcome the smart little boxer of the Fort Dupont contingent however and in an attempt to stage a comeback against him at the 22nd Regiment armory in New York city Tuesday night lost again to Edgerton. The winner entered the ring at 114½ while Tommy Aboba tipped the scales before his entry at 116½ pounds.

Stanley Reid will have to show up in sterling style to put one over on Mike Spergel when the two mix it up for six rounds Monday, provided the tilt lasts the scheduled time. Spergel has assumed the knockout style of putting his opponents away. Mike met Frankie Maleta, 132 pounder, of the 102nd Medical Corps, to the canvas in the 22nd Regiment armory Tuesday night in the fifth round of a scheduled six stanza tilt.

Dewey Van Buren, Joe Myers and Johnny Naccarato, three other locals to appear on the card of bouts against formidable opponents, besides Roy Van Buren, have been working strenuously in the armory in preparation for their coming scraps.

The present sale of tickets indicates that the attendance at the scraps will be a record one. Those in charge of the sale of the admission pasteboards urge early purchase in order to eliminate standing at the ticket window the night of the fights. Tickets may be obtained in designated stores up and downtown and from legionnaires.

Boston Braves Best in 6 Years

President Fuchs Declares With Jack Slattery as Manager and Rogers Hornsby Captain.

Boston, Jan. 18 (AP).—"The best baseball team we've had in the six years I have been in Boston" is the way President Emil E. Fuchs regards his 1928 model Boston Braves baseball machine which gets under way next month with a new driver at the wheel in the person of Manager Jack Slattery.

At the same time an integral part of the machine destined to furnish the necessary spark to pull it out of an habitual second division rut is believed to have been acquired in the season's outstanding deal which brought Rogers Hornsby to Boston from the Giants to captain the tribe at second base.

For the rest, the squad will shape as mostly veteran with one or two promising additions to a pitching staff which last year suffered for lack of an outstanding left hander. Johnny Cooney, veteran southpaw who underwent an operation of his left elbow, will attempt a comeback, while among the new additions are Ed Brandt, a big left-hander from Seattle, and Art Delaney, formerly of Oakland. The veterans include Kent Greenfield, Joe Genewich, Bob Smith, Charlie Robertson and Henry Wertz.

A gaping hole appears at present at the other end of the pitcher's alley due to the departure of Francis Hogan, last year's young but regular backstop, who went to the Giants with outfielder Jimmy Welsh, in exchange for Hornsby. A replacement in the form of "an experienced big league catcher" is promised soon, however, to bolster a catching department at present headed by Luke Urban, former Boston College star, who came to the Braves from the Giants.

Dick Burrus, slugging first baseman, who led the tribe with a .318 average last year, again is on deck, with an understudy about to be groomed in the person of big Ed Brown, six foot three outfielder, whose weakening throwing arm but otherwise healthy baseball attributes decided Manager Slattery in an attempt to make an infielder out of him.

With the coming of Hornsby, the Braves now consider they have a keystone combination worthy of the name. The new team captain will run things from second base and across the bag in the shortstop berth will be Eddie Farrell, last year's regular and a former teammate of the slugging ex-Giant.

Little Doc Gautreau probably will be switched from second base to third base to compete for that position with Andy High, while Eddie Moore, last year's guardian of the hot corner probably will become an outfielder rather than reserve material due to his .300 hitting ability.

The outer garden patrol will be chosen from Lance Richbourg, Moore, Jack Smith, next to leading hitter of the squad a year ago, and Earl Clark, who was purchased for $15,000 from Richmond last year. With Moore, Brown and Burrus in the lineup, the Braves can present an entire team of .300 hitters, exclusive of battery men, on the basis of last year's averages. Such an outfit would include: Hornsby, .361; Burrus, .318; Jack Smith, .316; Farrell, .316; Richbourg, .308; Brown, .306, and Moore, .301. High also enters the select circle with a .302 average.

Senior League Games Tonight

The regular Senior Sunday School League games of basketball will be played at the Y. M. C. A. tonight. The first tilt which is scheduled to start at 8 o'clock will be between the Comforter five and the Congregational quintet. The latter team will do its best on the court for it is now tied with the Presbyterians who will stack up against Port Ewen in the final game. The Presbyterians will have no easy task with the boys from across the creek. The second game of the evening will be between the Redeemer quintet and the Trinity aggregation.

Standing of Teams.

	Won	Lost	Pct.
Presbyterian	5	1	.833
Congregational	5	1	.833
Port Ewen	4	2	.666
Redeemer	3	3	.500

Industrial Games Thursday.

The regular brace of basketball games will be played in the Industrial League at the Y. M. C. A. Thursday night at 8:20. The opponents will be the Cnetral Hudson A vs. the Central Hudson B and the Artistics vs. the Silk Mill. A large attendance is looked forward to.

Rochester Team Here Thursday

From present indications there will be a record attendance at the armory Thursday night to see the Kingston basketball team, Metropolitan League champions, defend their good name against the attack of the Rochester Centrals, under the management of Nick Harvey, one of the best guards ever to perform on the Kingston court in the past. Another attraction for fans of the court game will be the tilt between the Artistics and the Columbia girls' teams. A second preliminary game will be staged by the Kantromiz Big Five and an aggregation of strong opponents.

The Kingston champion quintet, that has not been defeated on the home court this season, will have to work hard against the Rochester boys. Kingston will be well guarded for it is expected that Nick Harvey and Bob Grady will play in the back court. Both of these men are crack guards and have ability in the shooting line. They are well known to Kingston fans.

Mickey Husta will take the floor with his regular lineup of Kinning, Makofski, Herlihy, Yerkes and will play as hard as ever himself. Bill Makofski, brother of Sig Makofski, will be held in reserve. The game will be Kingston's second chance to display its wares against an American League team and plans to dispose of the Centrals in the same fashion as it did Fort Wayne.

Yankees Have Two Good Teams

New York, Jan. 18 (AP).—If the Yankees keep up their present pace in pennant winning as well as in player-purchasing it may be necessary for them to put a "B" team on the field, as some of the colleges are doing in football, to revive American League competition and give the surplus talent something to do.

They will have the material to do it by 1929, at any rate. The club already has a second baseman, shortstop and a few pitchers tagged for delivery next year or later.

The two team idea would relieve Miller Huggins of no little embarrassment when his recruits, such as Lyn Lary and Jimmy Reese, start reporting for action and bidding for places on an outfit that looks good enough now to withstand most tests for at least two or three years to come.

Games might be arranged on the home-and-home basis, if the other American League clubs fell in with the idea. While team "A" was engaging the Athletics at the Yankee Stadium, team "B" would oppose the Philadelphia seconds at Shibe Park. Or Huggins might split up his first string nine and put Gehrig or Ruth with team B occasionally to attract the customers.

To offer a further alternative, Huggins might borrow the Notre Dame system, starting his second string team as shock troops and rushing in the regulars when the reserves appeared to be weakening. It would be an interesting sight to see Ruth, Gehrig, Lazzeri, Meusel and the rest of the regulars dash out of the dugout, along about the fifth inning, and swing into action against a visiting aggregation that had been finding holes in the defense put by Lary, Reese, Gazella, Paschall and the other reservists.

Now that the Yanks and Giants have dipped into the player market with a few startling gestures every club in either major league has something to show for a record breaking winter season of dealing.

The Giants had to put their foremost star on the market before doing business with any of their rival clubs and even then, it seems, most of them shied at the idea of making a deal for Hornsby. When Boston finally landed the famous second baseman it is probable that Judge Fuchs and the other Hub officials expected to wake up the next day and find out it was all a dream.

It has been a wide open season for dealings in infield ivory, most of the big minor leagues purchases have involved inner workers, such as Cissell, who will cost the White Sox the equivalent of $123,000, and the Oakland pair, Lary and Reese, bought by the Yankees for a reported $150,000. The sale of Sisler to Washington by the Browns, trading of Hornsby, transfer of Bancroft from Boston to Brooklyn, and shift of Lou Blue from Detroit to St. Louis, added to the big parade.

Motor Vehicle Registration Gain

Nearly Six Per Cent Gain Shown in 1927—New York State Leads—Total Registration Over 23 Millions.

There were 23,579,002 motor vehicles registered in the United States during 1927. This is according to the figures just released by The B. F. Goodrich Rubber Company's statisticians, who have compiled their records from January 1 totals computed by the registrars of each state.

Motor vehicle production for 1927 is estimated at 3,530,000, indicating a heavy replacement business. This figure added to the registration figures for 1926 gives a total of 25,802,645. Since 1927 registration returns show only 23,579,002 motor vehicles in use the difference or 2,224,641 would indicate the number of motor cars scrapped or discarded. Replacements during the year were 9.4 per cent of the total registration.

New York State still holds first place in number of motor vehicles, but California is running a very close second. New York's percentage of increase was 9.8 while California's registration climbed only 5.5 per cent. On the other hand California possesses a motor vehicle for every two inhabitants or an average of two per family, which is figured at 4.6 persons, while New York possesses one car for every 5.2 persons or not quite one car per family.

For the first time in the history of the automotive industry four states showed a drop in registration. Florida leads with a loss of 16.4 per cent over 1926. Maine was second with a loss of 5.8 per cent.

The District of Columbia made the highest gain of any state with 17.5 per cent increase in registration. Mississippi takes second place in percentage of gain with 12.9 per cent increase to its credit.

It is coincident that the percentage of increase in three states was identical to the percentage of increase obtained in 1926. New York, Maryland and New Hampshire each showed the same per cent of increase in 1927 as was shown in 1926.

Taking the registration total and dividing it into the estimated population of the United States shows one car for every 4.9 persons, or approximately one car per family. The 1927 registration total also provides 7.9 motor cars for every square mile of area in the United States.

An estimated registration of motor vehicles on farms shows 19.9 per cent of the total or 4,700,000 motor cars and trucks. Over 19 per cent of the total highway mileage in the United States has been surfaced for motor vehicle traffic, a big gain in surfacing having been made during 1927. Gasoline consumed by motor vehicles in 1927 amounted to 9,697,000,000 gallons, 84 per cent of all the crude rubber imported was used in making tires and accessories for the motor car industry.

House Tables Tariff Measure

Washington, Jan. 18 (AP).—By a vote of 183 to 164, the House Tuesday tabled a senate resolution proposing a downward revision of the tariff.

This action, taken at the instance of Representative Tilson of Connecticut, Republican leader of the House, has the effect of virtually killing the measure inasmuch as a vote to reconsider would be necessary to take it from the table. Some members of the western Republican independent group have made it clear, however, that some move against the tariff was to be expected in the House at this session.

Representative Garrett, of Tennessee, Democratic floor leader, vigorously opposed today's action.

The resolution approved yesterday by a coalition of Senate Democrats and Republica nindependents, was transmitted to the House as an expression of Senate sentiment. The House alone has authority to initiate tariff legislation.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 15c, 30c, 60c.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

ELEANOR GUNN ON FASHIONS

Fur Shoes Are a Sensational Development of the Winter, But Shoes In General Are Simpler in Design than Formerly.

Paris—Although a general movement toward greater elaboration is admittedly the trend of the moment in dress it is interesting to report simpler shoes. From the intricate strapped sandals of not so long ago, to the less-complicated pumps and oxfords of the moment, seems a step toward better dressing.

There is a greater tendency toward simple lines at night. The plain opera pump, often quite severely so, is frequently worn to balls and parties. A pump no longer even ornamented or silvered but of suede or glove-weight kid or satin.

One feels less conscious of the feet, it is generally, fashion for the moment focuses attention upon the bodice or throat. There jewels, real or imitation, glitter, and the feet, shod in sheer and familiar shade shades, are thrust in slippers whose purpose is to complete the costume rather than to occasion astonishment.

For day wear, one notices a wider choice, and has to report the sensational addition of fur shoes. What, after all, can one call shoes made of calf such as is used for coats? Not the calf tanned and converted into leather, but the pelt itself, usually in combination with other fabric, such as a dark brown calf with black patent leather!

Reptile skins of all kinds, but more especially lizard, are still in use. They are nearly always used with another kid.

Naturally, with black in the ascendency for coats and dresses, black shoes are the smartest.

One Popular New Shade Known as "Queen's Hair"

Many of the new ensembles consist of voile dresses topped by a duvetyn or velvet coat. The dresses as a rule are trimmed with just a touch of bright color, such as empire green or royal blue, and this shade is reproduced in the lining of the coat. A very popular new shade is the reddish beige which is known as "queen's hair." It is particularly effective in velvet when embroided with gold threads and set off by mink trimming.

Longer Skirt and Higher Waistline

Dipped Back Is an Effective Method of Lengthening the Hemline.

Sartorially there may be safety in numbers, but safety comes a long way from connoting chic. There has been a current impression during recent seasons that, due to the immense diversity of fashion themes offered at each new opening, one might wear even last season's clothes with impunity. It is a fact, asserts a fashion writer in the New York Herald-Tribune, that if you exhaustively search the recent autumn collections you may be able to make out an excellent case for yesterday's wardrobe. But fashion is not one of the verbal arts, and however plausibly you may argue in favor of last year's mode exploiting it is distinctly another matter.

For there are certain details, some apparently insignificant and some looming large on the modal horizons, which must be incorporated into the contemporary wardrobe. You might call them the hallmarks of this winter's chic. Without them you can be dowdily correct; with them you are fairly certain of attaining at least a modicum of what parades so smartly under the name of Paris chic.

Consider first the skirt portion of your winter costume. Of primary importance is the fact that it must be markedly fuller and slightly longer than it was a season ago. The fullness must not commence until below the hips; there is still a conforming effect at this sector of the silhouette. The circular line and the plaits are the smartest ways of accomplishing the current skirt width.

As to the added length, one inch will be sufficient. You may also accomplish this longer skirt impression by means of the irregular hemline, or a line longer in back, at the front or at the sides. The dipped back is a particularly effective method of lengthening the hemline.

Tunic Silhouette Is Smart.

There is no general silhouette dictum. The new tunic silhouette, accomplished occasionally by posing loose overskirts above the conforming foundation, is novel and unquestionably smart. The two-tiered effect is quite as effective. You will also find that the draped line will lend your costume an indubitably modern air. If you exploit this draped theme—and we strongly advise it—see that you choose crepe satin as the fabric medium.

Another significant development in the new silhouette is the diagonal line introduced through seamings, buttoned fastenings, fabric insets, pockets and the diagonal band which starts from the shoulder and works its way down the front of the costume.

Little need be said of the waistline. The dividing point between bodice and skirt should be higher—not quite normal, but very close to it. There may be some objections to this higher line on the ground that it cannot be esthetically accomplished with the current supple silhouette. The solution then is simply to raise the waistline to the highest point compatible with the individual figure.

Sleeves are not the focal point of the reviving elegance, but they are one of the principal factors. It is their function this season to contribute generously to an air of elegance, and that should be your primary consideration in choosing your winter clothes. The butterfly lace sleeves, the box-pleated type, the circular species, conforming in miniature to the silhouette, and such novelties as the contrasted sleeve offered by Philippe et Gaston, wherein the left sleeve is full and the right member contrastingly tight, are among the smart new winter sleeve conceptions.

Both Sides of Crepe Satin Used on an Afternoon Dress.

Winter Crepe Satin Liked.

Most prominent among the silks of winter is crepe satin, equally important for both afternoon and evening wear. Taffeta is again listed among the smart materials, and its use is principally concentrated on evening gowns and draped effects. Velvet, of course, retains its pre-eminent niche, and there is the usual assortment of coarse and fine woolens developed by such artists as Rodier and Meyer. Last but not least among the materials is lace, a favorite of yesteryear, still exploited, but furtively, yet one of the most certain marks of the new chic.

An Ottoman Coat Collared and Cuffed With Red Fox.

In black, white and vivid colors we particularly commend it to your attention.

You need not be greatly perturbed over the new color situation for the winter months. Many reports have come from Paris and scarcely a hue has been neglected in the stentorian proclamations issued under the apparent cover of authority. Really it does not make a great deal of difference what shade you select. Blues are en regle, and so are browns, and there is the usual winter furor over black, as well as black and white. With such a wealth of color to select from we offer two suggestions: First, and most obvious, select the color which becomes you most. Secondly, try to avoid, so far as possible, the shades you affected last season. Above all, be neither misled nor confused at what are commonly referred to as Paris color dicta. They are of no value.

So far as decoration is concerned you may exploit it lavishly. Embroideries, buckles, buttons, seamwork, jeweled touches, metal stitching, fringe—indeed, anything in the line of elegant embellishments has its place in this winter's mode. For the ripening season has witnessed a gathering of the ancient clans of the elegantes and there is heartening promise of a new day in fashions.

Blousing Not So Pronounced.

As for bodices, it is noticeable that blousing is not as pronounced as it has been in seasons just past, says a Paris fashion writer in the Herald-Tribune. Sometimes this winter's bodice will blouse softly all around. Again it is flat in back and slightly bloused in front as well as the reverse of this idea. The princess line is somewhat stronger in evening types, while the slightest taken-in effect appears in some of the suit jackets and frock bodices, although now and again the normal waistline influences the bodice in a rather straightish effect. The bolero is extant in several new forms, as at Worth's where the line is cut rather high and thus gives the feeling of a lifted waistline.

Necklines are sometimes irregular—square in front, for instance, with a side V point in back or the reverse of this, while again the banding of the bodice may permit its irregular line to shape the neckline, thus giving exact unity in composition. Many of the more formal evening gowns have deeply cut V backs. Scarf collars and separate scarfs all lend themselves to the themes used abundantly for defining the neckline. Close, low collars fitting snugly around the neck are shown here and there while many sports types have the regulation soft turn-over collar.

Drop shoulders are quite prevalent. These sometimes drop as low as the deep yoke in a frock and again only tip the shoulder edge. Cap sleeves give this influence, too, when combined with deep, wide flares. Mousquetaire cuffs, various arrangements of bands and little bows lend variety to the sleeve. A frequent sleeve type is one gathered slightly at the wrist and caught into a narrow cuff, reminiscent of the ancient shirtwaist sleeve. Glove cuffs made very tight to extend above the elbow appear in many frocks, usually in a material to contrast with the frock, and in coats the idea is carried out by long, elbow-deep fur cuffs. Long sleeves are used more than ever in evening gowns. Coats have numerous types of sleeves often emphasized below the elbow by way of a muff cuff or a big rounded one.

No one is safe!

Banker, baker or society woman—no matter who we are—every one of us may offend unknowingly.

Frank facts ... about body odor!

IF YOU have ever noticed body odor in another—and who hasn't—you know how it makes you feel toward the offender.

Respect, friendship, love—all wither before this grave offense.

Yet we are all subject to body odor. And body odor is more noticeable in winter because we're indoors more—in badly ventilated rooms, stuffy theatres, crowded street cars.

We'd die if we didn't perspire. Even on cold days—our millions of pores continually give off invisible perspiration—often as much as a quart of waste each 24 hours.

	Body odor more noticeable in winter—due to stuffy rooms—closed windows.
1Qt.	Pores give off as much as a quart of waste a day—even in coldest weather.
	Now, a purifying toilet soap. Its antiseptic lather keeps you safe from body odor.

Why we cannot tell when we offend

This body waste, in perspiration form, whether you see it or not, is odorous. And it plays no favorites. Bank presidents and laborers, society leaders and servants—all may offend unless they take precautions. And the pity of it is that we may be guilty—and not know it!

For when an odor becomes familiar, our own sense of smell becomes deadened to it. That's why fastidious people—who think they are safe—may often offend most.

Don't take chances

Yet no one need risk embarrassing body odor. Just wash and bathe often with Lifebuoy, the deodorizing toilet soap.

The same antiseptic lather that helps protect health by removing germs—prevents body odor by purifying pores.

Note, too, how clear and fresh this antiseptic Lifebuoy lather keeps complexions. No wonder Lifebuoy is the favorite toilet soap of millions.

Note its hygienic scent

You will learn to love Lifebuoy's clean scent, which proves Lifebuoy purifies, yet which quickly evaporates after rinsing.

Rotarians Hear Judge Clearwater

[illegible] Kingston Rotary Club of Some [illegible] Problems Affecting Niagara Falls With Which He Is Familiar [illegible] President of Niagara Falls Commission

[illegible] Clearwater was the speaker [illegible] weekly luncheon of the [illegible] at the Governor Clinton [illegible] about Niagara Falls. [illegible] Clearwater said in part: [illegible] Falls is the greatest easily [illegible] accessible natural [illegible] the world. It annually [illegible] more people than go to [illegible] the National Parks of the country. [illegible] of the great trunk line [illegible] half rate excursion [illegible] Niagara from places as re[illegible] Duluth, Minneapolis, Detroit, [illegible] Richmond, Philadelphia, [illegible] Halifax, Quebec, Montreal [illegible] Winnipeg. Between the first [illegible] 1926, and the first day [illegible] 1927, there crossed the [illegible] the mainland to Goat [illegible] 2,179,624 people by actual [illegible]. In addition it was estimated [illegible] contented themselves [illegible] at the Falls from the [illegible] position of Prospect [illegible] of the mainland.

The Falls and the adjacent territory are under the control of five commissioners who legally are [illegible] as the Commissioners of the State Reservation at Niagara. [illegible] this commission for twelve years [illegible] my fortune to be the president.

The Falls of Zambesi in Africa, the Falls of the upper Amazon in Brazil and the Falls of the Aguar[illegible] in Australia present magnificent spectacles, but they only can be visited by a limited number of people and at an enormous expense.

Everything at Niagara is free. The most impecunious visitor can see all there is to look at without the expenditure of a penny. Whole families can spend a day amid the most majestic surroundings with the greatest comfort and enjoyment, and without being solicited by hucksters and others to buy anything.

There is not a hot dog or sandwich stand on the 110 acres of the Reservation and at many salient points the commission has arranged tables and seats for the use of the thousands of picknickers who come to spend the day and bring their luncheon with them.

It has been said and I think truly that there is not in the whole world so majestic a scenic grandeur so entirely free from disturbing elements as Niagara Falls.

The Judge's Labor of Love.

To me it has been a labor of love to devote much of my time during the last twelve years to the eradication of some of the unpleasant features existing when I became the president of the commission. Today the only privileged persons admitted to the Reservation are the Tuscorora Indians, the original owners of the Falls. A limited number of the women of which tribe are permitted to sell bead work made by them and miniature birch bark canoes and bows and arrows to the children of visitors.

The great paleontologists of the world seem to be agreed that Niagara has existed for approximately three hundred million years. They are uncertain as to what spasm of nature created the precipice, but concur in the opinion that during the last thirty thousand years the rim has receded toward Lake Erie substantially eight miles.

The Falls, as those of you as have visited them note, are divided by Goat Island. They are designated as the American and Horseshoe. The latter has a three thousand feet curve, the apex of which is receding toward Lake Erie at the rate of 42 inches a year. This recession is due to the fact that the rim rock of the apex is of a softer character than the curving sides of the Horseshoe. One result of this phenomenon is the lessening of the amount of water flowing over the American Falls.

The great lakes to the west of Niagara form the reservoir of the Cataract which takes the spill over from a basin two hundred fifty thousand miles in area, fifty per cent larger than all of France. Sixty-one per cent of this basin lies within the United States.

Two Serious Questions.

The commissioners of the reservation at this moment are confronted with two serious questions concerning the integrity of the Cataract.

The first is the desire of the City of Chicago to increase the diversion of water from Lake Michigan to the Mississippi River for the purpose of its drainage canal from 90,000 cubic feet per second to 130,000 cubic feet per second.

The abstraction by Chicago of the 90,000 cubic feet which it has been permitted to take has resulted in the lowering of the level of the entrance to the great lake ports 2½ inches, and the lowering of the precipitation over the American rim of the Cataract at Niagara of 6.2 inches. The lowering of the level of the water at the lake ports particularly those of Cleveland and Buffalo has proved a serious menace to deep draft vessels navigating the lakes and therefore, it is that the state of New York and the commissioners of the State Reservation at Niagara are opposing the application to Congress of Chicago for its additional diversion of 40,000 cubic feet per second.

The impoverishment of substantially six inches of water over the American rim threatens the scenic grandeur or the Cataract. Also it tends to concentrate the flow of water over the rim of the Horseshoe into the apex of that Falls and to accelerate the erosion of the rim. Various measures of relief as to the latter danger have been suggested. The Canadian side of the Niagara River including the portion embraced within the Horseshoe is under the control of a commission appointed by the Dominion Parliament with powers similar to those of the commissioners of the state of New York.

Friction Has Ceased.

Prior to my incumbency of the presidency of the New York commission a rather senseless friction had developed between the two commissions. Largely this has ceased to exist and today both commissions fully are in accord as to the important necessity of remedial measures to protect the scenic grandeur of the entire Cataract, and to prevent the further diminution of the flow of the river by the abstraction of more water by Chicago. So far has this union of sentiment proceeded that last week the president of the Niagara Commission, who is a resident of Toronto and one of the large bankers of Canada, came to Kingston to discuss with me the entire Niagara situation. The result of our meeting was that it was agreed a meeting of both commissions should be held at Niagara Falls, New York, late in May or early in June of this year, to which the Dominion Parliament should be invited to send representatives and that the members of the Committee on Foreign Relations of the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States should be invited to attend.

The reason for the assembly of representatives from both countries is that some of the great lakes and all of the Niagara River constitute the international boundary between Canada and the United States, and if any effective measure is to be adopted, it is essential that both countries should agree upon it. In addition to these troubles there is the constant demand of the great power companies in Canada and this country for the abstraction of more water for the generation of electric energy.

Canadian Corporations Antagonistic.

We have had no trouble with the colossal corporations on the American side, until recently however, a formidable antagonism existed upon the Canadian side. Of this antagonism a distinguished Canadian politician and capitalist, Sir Adam Beck, was the head. Unfortunately between Sir Adam and myself there existed irreconcilable conditions so much so that when six years ago both of us were in Washington before the Committee on Foreign Relations of the Senate and the House of Representatives on the application by the Canadian government for a revision and modification of the Bulwer-Clayton treaty relative to the diversion of water from the lakes and the river, Sir Adam said to me after the hearing as we came down the steps of the Capitol together that if he could be rid of me he would be able to secure all the water he wanted, and he asked me how he could terminate my activities. I told him I knew of but two methods, one was assassination and the other was to induce some governor of New York to remove me from office. A year ago, Sir Adam was gathered to his fathers and reposes in a magnificent mausoleum at Montreal. He left a colossal fortune, he did build on the Canadian side of the river a superb hydro-electric corporation.

Electric Energy Developed.

It is not possible on this occasion to discuss or even to state the scope of the use to which electric energy developed at Niagara on the American side is devoted. Let me say that from Erie, Pennsylvania, to Syracuse, New York, 250,000 people now daily enjoy the use of the electric energy developed by the Niagara Falls Power Company on the American side of the Falls. That company has a capacity to transmit 500,000 horse power of which it utilizes only 110,000. It has in operation more than 1,300 miles of high voltage circuits and reaches more than 500 cities, towns, villages and light districts.

It also desires permission to divert a larger amount of water than it now is able to utilize, and it presents a formidable request to our Commission for such diversion. On the 2nd of January this year it handed to me a compilation of statistics which demonstrate that the price of many necessities of life such as food and clothing had advanced nearly 100 per cent since 1915, while the cost of electric generation and supply by it had decreased during the same period. I am unable to concur in the view that the state should enter the field of the development of electric energy and I hope that some member of the Rotary Club competent adequately to consider and treat important economic questions within the near future, will address you regarding it.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Jan. 18 (AP).—A sudden [illegible] drive against the railroad shares which knocked off a number of [illegible] orders, unsettled the day's stock market. The reaction came after an opening display of strength in which the public utilities and [illegible] a prominent part.

Trading continued relatively dull however with indications that the day's total would fall below 2,000,000 shares.

The fall on the rails probably was ascribed to the belief that holders of these issues were becoming discouraged over their lethargic market action during the past few weeks. Chesapeake and Ohio quickly broke 2 points, Canadian Pacific 2¾, and New York Central, Frisco Common, Reading, St. Louis Southwestern and a few others sold down 2 points or more.

Call money renewed at four per cent and then dropped to 3½, but this was offset by reports of a firmer [illegible] in the time money market. The weekly steel trade reviews were optimistic in character, Iron Age stating that finished steel requirements [illegible] in volume, but are becoming better balanced. U. S. Steel common nevertheless sank below 144 to a new low on the current down swing.

Violent fluctuations again took place in some of the high priced specialties. Midland Steel Products preferred tumbled 13 points, U. S. Cast Iron Pipe 5½ and Case Threshing, General Asphalt and Greene Cananea Copper sold down 2 to 5 points.

Early gains in many of the popular industrials were wiped out, and converted into losses by early afternoon. The selling was not in very large volume, however and a few issues continued to display independent strength.

POULTRY

COSTS A QUARTER TO SECURE EGGS

Those economists and farmers who say that eggs can be produced in North Carolina for as low as 13 to 15 cents a dozen, don't know what they are talking about, according to Dr. R. F. Kaupp, head of the poultry department of the North Carolina State college.

Doctor Kaupp states that it will cost nearly 25 cents a dozen if all feed costs and overhead costs are added to the totals. He bases his statement on some experiments that he has been conducting with a flock of 750 White Leghorn hens at one of the branch station farms of the North Carolina experiment station.

"Some of the data that I have seen says that it costs the southern farmer only about 13 to 15 cents a dozen to produce eggs," says Doctor Kaupp. "We know that when hens have been bred for high egg production, the cost per dozen eggs is lower, and for that reason it will certainly cost the average farmer more to produce eggs than it will the commercial poultry farmer where the hens are bred for highest production. This commercial man also gives closer attention to his management and feeding than will the average farmer. We have many farmers who are making money with poultry but they are not considering their eggs to cost only 15 cents a dozen to produce."

Doctor Kaupp used the regular North Carolina ration in feeding his test flock of 750 hens. He kept a careful and accurate record of each cent spent for feed, the cost of litter, grit, depreciation of the flock, interest on the investment, the labor, taxes and other charges. Then there were some miscellaneous charges such as for medicines, egg cases, leg bands and the like. He credited the hens for all eggs, for all manure, and for the poultry sold. Each hen returned a net profit above all costs of $2.40 for the year and the eggs were produced at a cost just a fraction under 25 cents. He found, too, that it took six pounds of feed to produce each dozen eggs.

Early-Hatched Pullets Are Most Profitable

The early-hatched pullets that start to lay in October or November are the ones to keep for profitable egg production. The fall and winter months are the season of high-egg prices and birds that do not come into production until the season has passed will not pay as well as they ought to. It is the early-hatcher and well-matured pullet, with plenty of body weight to give her endurance, that will produce the eggs during this high-priced period.

The early-hatched pullets should be distinguished from the early-maturing pullets. One was hatched early, grew normally, obtaining normal body weight and coming into production at a time when her system was ready for sustained production. The rapidly maturing bird probably was hatched later, but made such rapid sexual development that she is ready to start laying before her body is equipped for sustained production.

Such birds, in direct contrast with the former, are light in weight, are very often poor feeders, and will very likely go into a partial or complete molt before they have produced very many eggs.

Late Molting Hens Take Short Time to Idle

Some hens take fully four times as long a vacation as others to regrow their feathers and prepare for another season of egg-laying. A recent study at the Missouri agricultural experiment station showed that hens ceasing to lay in July took 182 days' vacation and laid 109 eggs during the year. Those quitting in August took 151 days off to grow new feathers, laying 134 eggs. September quitters lost 143 days and laid 137 eggs. October molters were idle 94 days and laid 153 eggs. Birds laying up to November lost 60 days for molting and laid 171 eggs, while December molters lost only 43 days and laid 174 eggs during the year.

Poultry Notes

Egg-laying demonstrations show that it pays to educate hens.

• • •

Delays in making repairs on the poultry houses usually prove expensive.

• • •

Damp floors should not be tolerated. Poorly ventilated poultry houses are damp.

• • •

Feeding space for all hens at all times is the rule that should be kept in mind in building a poultry feed hopper.

• • •

Red mites may be controlled by thoroughly painting the house with cardolineum. Spraying with coal tar dip is also effective.

• • •

One should feed comparatively little grain feed in the morning. Probably 8 pounds for 100 hens will be sufficient. There should be kept before the hens all the time a dry mash.

Names on Ancient Books

Serving the same purpose as the lettering on the back or front cover of the modern book, the manuscript rolls of early Egypt and Greece had projecting labels of papyrus or vellum, on which the title of the work was written. These labels hung outwards as the rolls lay on the library shelves or stood in the buckets which served as portable bookcases.—Gas Logic.

"Mechanical Ears"

So delicate are the "mechanical ears" perfected by scientists to detect sound waves in the air that a gun fired on the east coast of England was "heard" at Birmingham university, more than 135 miles away, says Popular Science Monthly. The sound was not heard by human ears, but was detected by the recording instruments.

Cuban Secretary Greets Delegates

Havana, Jan. 18 (AP).—The sixth Pan-American conference opened its business sessions today with Dr. Martinez Ortiz, Cuban secretary of state, delivering the address of welcome to the delegates of all the American countries.

Paying tribute to President Coolidge and the United States Dr. Ortiz dwelt on the good work accomplished at previous conferences and admonished his hearers to direct their efforts toward amity and good will.

Alejandro Leira, chief of the Chilean delegation, replied, expressing faith in the progress of Pan-Americanism and in the benefits which Pan-American conferences were bestowing, not only on the western hemisphere, but on the world in general.

Prior to the opening of the conference, a flag raising ceremony outside, in which the standards of all countries represented were raised, aroused the enthusiasm of the great crowd which had been assembling since early morning.

Nugget of Wisdom

Nothing is there to come, and nothing past, but an eternal now does always last.—Abraham Cowley.

Y's Men Hold Birthday Party

Tuesday night was the birthday of the Y's Men's godfather and the meeting was a real birthday party. John C. Porter was therefore remembered by the club with a [illegible] metal eight-day mantel clock.

The several women who have been acting as the commissary department surprised all by handing over to the club a check which represents the earnings of the department for the past year. This surplus, amounting to $100, is to be used for the kitchen range at The Charles Dempsey Lodge at The Camp. When one considers the type of meal furnished each week to the Y's Men by these women, it is indeed wonderful to find that there has been a profit. Take a look at this menu and make your own conclusions:

Roast Ham.
Escalloped Oysters.
Creamed Potatoes.
Corn.
Rolls. Olives. Celery Noise.
Jello. Coffee.

Paul Zucca, "The Mad Hatter" from S. Cohen's Sons, was introduced as the speaker of the evening. His illustrated talk is well worth any club's interest.

The club hopes to announce one of its dances at the lodge in the near future.

Lowell Club.

On Tuesday afternoon the Lowell Club met at the home of Mrs. Everett and held one of the most interesting sessions on record. The program for the afternoon had to do with Twentieth Century Artists and Sculptors and began with an especially informing paper on "Sargent", given by Mrs. Edwards. This was followed by a very entertaining talk on "Whistler", given by Mrs. Brigham. Mrs. Cole had charge of a Round Table, being assisted by the following women who gave valuable sketches of these artists: St. Gaudens, by Miss Elizabeth H. Baker; MacMonnies, by Mrs. Chidester; Chase, by Mrs. Schoonmaker; La Farge, by Mrs. Van Wagenen and Remington, by Mrs. Cole. The roll call was Current Events. A special invitation was extended to the Lowell Club by the Coterie to attend the open meeting of the Federation of Women's Clubs to be held at the chapel of the Rondout Presbyterian Church on Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, when Crystal Bird will give an illustrated talk on "The Negro Spirituals and their Inner Significance". Next week the Lowell Club will meet with Mrs. Fessenden.

Secretary of Staff.

The report of Secretary of Staff Dr. C. L. Gannon was as follows:

Reverend Father Scully, Sister Berenice, Sisters and Staff Members:

During the year 1927 the staff of the Benedictine Hospital has held ten monthly meetings, the July and August meetings being omitted due to the vacation period.

The attendance for the year has been very poor, showing an average of only 62 per cent. This average is based upon attendance of the active members only. More than half the members have had an excellent attendance, but the average is brought down by five or six doctors who attend our meetings very infrequently.

I thing this is a good opportunity to urge every active member to attend every monthly meeting. The meetings are interesting; they are not too long; subjects of great importance are brought up and discussed; charts of patients who have died during the month previous are reviewed and it is essential that the doctor in charge of the case be present at such discussion. We need the constructive criticism of each and every member, and the time to express such criticism is at our monthly staff meetings.

One of the main topics of discussion in any hospital is the condition of the charts. I am glad to report that the year 1927 has brought a great improvement in this department. The charts are completely outlined and intelligently written and brought forth complimentary comments from the representative of the American College of Surgeons upon his last visit.

During the past year scientific sessions have been held in conjunction with the business meeting of the staff. A variety of subjects were presented by our staff members. The papers presented were well written and showed that considerable study and research had been expended in preparing them. These sessions proved interesting and the general opinion among the staff members was for a continuance of them.

I regret to report that we have had but very few autopsies during 1927 and I would urge every member to keep this in mind and try to obtain permission from relatives to perform autopsies. When a patient dies and there is a question as to the diagnosis, every effort should be made to perform an autopsy.

During the past year the staff voted to pay dues of $5 a year. Out of this fund the secretary has permission to pay for flowers, printing and other small expenses.

In closing I wish to take this opportunity on behalf of the staff of the Benedictine Hospital to thank the Reverand Mother Monica, Sister Ignatia, Sister Berenice, Sister Callista, Sister Ursula, Sister Raphael and their associates for their splendid cooperation during the past year. The innumerable demands the doctors have made upon their time and patience have always met with ready response and cheerful assistance. Their time, energy and every thought have been expended solely for the purpose of giving the best care and treatment to the patients we send in. The doctors appreciate this and are truly grateful.

Report of Supt. of Nurses.

The report of Sister Callista, R. N., superintendent of nurses, was as follows:

Very Reverend Father Scully, Sisters and Doctors:

I have the honor to submit to you the report of Our Lady of Victory School of Nursing for the year 1927.

During the past year fifteen students have been admitted for training; while five students have completed their period of training and successfully passed the State Board of Regents' examinations. The present enrollment of the school is as follows: 10 seniors, 11 intermediates, 15 juniors, making a total of 36 students. Nine of this number are now in New York affiliating.

We have been very fortunate in having Sister Ursula, one of our own graduates, accepted by the Department of Education as a qualified instructor. Sister has had several years of teaching experience and has also had additional work at Teachers' College, Columbia University.

To the teaching equipment we have added a dissectable manikin, French model, also an eye and an ear model. These have been very helpful to the students in the study of anatomy. We have added to our reference library about thirty volumes. Desk lights have been provided for the nurses' rooms.

The classwork covered during the past semester is as follows:

	Hours
Elementary Nursing	102
Bandaging	10
Anatomy and physiology	80
Hygiene	12
History of Nursing	10
Ethics	10
Hospital Housekeeping	10
Chemistry	18
Drugs and Solutions	20
Bacteriology	29
Modern Social Conditions	8
Nutrition and Cookery	24
Diseases of the Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat	10
Surgical Nursing Including First Aid	24
Genito-Urinary Diseases	2
Gynecology	8
Operating Room Technic	8
Medical Diseases	15
Dietotherapy	8
Public Sanitation	8

Pathology, massage, professional problems, communicable diseases and occupational diseases will be given during this semester.

I am deeply grateful to our worthy president, the Very Reverend Dean Scully, for his lively interest in our success and his wise counsels in the solution of our problems; to the Reverend Thomas Sanderson, C. S.S. R., who has so generously given his time and effort in grounding the nurses in solid principles of ethics and establishing and maintaining the moral conscience so necessary in the profession of nursing; to Sister Berenice for her ever ready cooperation in matters pertaining to the betterment of the school.

I wish to express my sincerest thanks to the doctors for the aid they have rendered so graciously in giving of their time and knowledge; in particular do I thank Dr. Voss for his untiring work as school physician and director in our health campaign.

To the nursing staff and the student body, for their loyal support and cooperation, I can only express my heartfelt thanks and grateful appreciation.

Respectfully submitted,
SISTER CALLISTA, R. N.,
Superintendent of School of Nursing.

Report of Superintendent.

The report of Sister Berenice, superintendent of hospital, was as follows:

Very Reverend Father Scully, Sisters and Doctors:

The past year has bequeathed to us many blessings both spiritual and temporal. A survey of the progress of service in our institution has been most encouraging. There has been a marked increase in our daily census. The Master indeed is ever mindful of His own and has blessed our endeavors abundantly.

Our Training School has received the largest class in the history of the institution. According to the report of the State Department of Education our School of Nursing is more than meeting with their requirements. Our recent report from this department is most satisfactory.

We are fortunate in having on our personnel five Sisters who are graduate nurses. This is an asset to our institution. It furthermore creates a continuity of service. Through the abiding interest and cooperation of our Superior, Reverend Mother Monica, there is much to be hoped for in the future advancement of our hospital. The School of Nursing is in charge of Sister Callista. We are likewise fortunate in having for the first time a Sister instructress, Sister Ursula. Our X-ray and laboratory departments are in charge of Sister Raphael. Sister Mary Agnes supervises the care of the sick at night. Miss Mary Leonard, a graduate of our school, is our general supervisor of the floor. The supervision of the operating room is in charge of Miss Mary Myers. Here we are striving to use every possible effort to improve our methods so that we can render to our patients in need the finest possible service and relief. A competent dietitian, Miss Donalda Hayman, is in charge of the dietetic department. The development and growth of this department has been so marked that our students now receive their dietetic training at home.

Since more time and energy is being given to the clinical conference, the staff meetings have put on new life. This is due to the fact that at the end of each monthly meeting the chairman for the following month is appointed. In this way ample time is given for clinical preparation and the proper rendering of the subject proposed. It also incites interest and the urge of every doctor to prepare a scientific and effective subject to be presented for the friendly and timely criticisms of his colleagues.

Our hospital was highly honored in the month of September by receiving a visit from His Eminence Patrick Cardinal Hayes. His Eminence visited the different departments of the hospital and was delighted with its modern equipment. During the Christmas holidays we received a personal gift of $2,500 from His Eminence Cardinal Hayes.

To our Very Reverend President, Joseph B. Scully, Dean, we are truly grateful. His intense interest and untiring care has inspired us to raise our hospital to the highest standard which it occupies today. Through his guidance and influence it has become efficient, effective, and fruitful in the fulfillment of its duties toward the needy and sick. We also wish to express our appreciation to our chaplain, the Reverend John DeKrom.

We extend our sincere appreciation to our doctors for the interest and effort they have manifested in our hospital and in the training of our students. We have always been appreciative of the kindness of Mayor Dempsey, who has ever been willing to cooperate and lend his assistance. We thank the board of water works and the fire department, with its leader and chief, Joseph Murphy, for the interest shown in our institution.

The citizens at large have been generous in coming to our assistance. Early in the year St. Peter's Dramatic Society presented the hospital with the entire receipts of a comedy entitled "A Full House". The scenes and pictures of the ever memorable Eucharistic Congress were presented on the screen and part of the proceeds donated to the hospital. St. Mary's Junior Dramatic Society also contributed of their time and talents. The results were excellent, and they, too, donated the receipts to the hospital. We also wish to express our sincere appreciation for the success of the Charity Ball, which is an annual event held in the state armory. Mrs. Lorenz generously donated to the hospital part of the proceeds of a dance which was given by her pupils. Mrs. Frank Disch contributed toward the Christmas cheer in the hospital by giving a card party at her home. A word of thanks is also due to the ladies who generously devoted their time in making the hospital beautiful for the holidays. To the merchants and friends who contributed for this purpose we are also grateful.

Our institution, which has always been lavishly endowed by nature, has had its exterior appearance much enhanced by the widening of its driveway and road. For this acquisition to the hospital we wish to express our thanks to our sister hospital in permitting us to be the recipients and users of the excavated rock which was removed from their premises. It has made an excellent parking space in front of our building. Through the interest and courtesy of the water board a new water line has been laid across the hill by the city and a hydrant installed near the hospital. The water pressure is now much more satisfactory.

In the early fall a large number of the citizens of Kingston were called upon to attend a meeting in order to provide ways and means to assist in the celebration of our 25th anniversary. The response was indeed encouraging. We had a most enthusiastic meeting. A brief resume of the work of the hospital and the wonderful equipment in the institution was given, and to this was added a report of the debt we are now carrying. All present at the meeting were unanimous in declaring that a campaign should be launched in order to remove the heavy debt from the hospital. This accomplished, we could plan for the erection of a new Nurses' Home. The housing of our nurses is becoming a very serious problem. Our present class is thirty-six in number, and a new class will be received in February. At the end of the fourth jubilee meeting, however, various reasons were brought forward that might prove detrimental to our drive. Because of these reasons, it was decided to postpone the campaign until a later date. We are very grateful to our friends for the interest they displayed in our behalf.

During the year the Ladies' Auxiliary actively assisted the hospital in various ways, the principal object of their attention being the Charity Ball. We extend our grateful thanks to Mrs. Joan Goldrick and her assisting officers. The reorganization of the auxiliary has given new life and energy for the coming year. Circles have been formed for the young ladies in the various parishes.

Let us all join a crusade to bring beauty, charm and homelikeness into our hospital. Combined with this let us strive to be leaders for all that is best for the care of our sick. If we all make up our minds to contribute what is best in us, this coming year of 1928 will be one of exceptional achievement, bringing honor and glory to our King.

American Legion Boy Scouts' Work

Unusual Articles Produced by Members of Troop 10 on Exhibition and Sale at Rose and Gorman Store—Troop Earning Money for Uniforms.

On Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week the show window of Rose and Gorman will display an exhibit of much interest. If you pass the store, you will be sure to look. And if you wish to look, be sure to pass the store.

The exhibit is the first gun to be fired by Troop 10, American Legion Boy Scouts, in their campaign to raise enough money to buy their Boy Scout Uniforms. And this troop absolutely must have uniforms in time for the Memorial Day parade in Kingston next May.

Troop 10 was organized by Kingston Post of the American Legion about September 15. The troop has a membership of 56 real Americans and has made unusual progress in scout work. Those who doubt this are asked to inspect the many pieces of unusual handicraft in Rose and Gorman's window on the three last days of this week. The exhibit contains some of the most handsome bird-houses ever made by boys between the ages of 12 and 14.

Help Boys Earn Uniforms.

Anyone wishing to own one of these handsome and useful rustic articles for home, garden or camp and wishing to encourage these boys in their resolution to earn their own uniforms, is asked to call at Rose and Gorman's on Saturday. The exhibit will be displayed, through the courtesy of the firm, in one of the big windows on Thursday and Friday but no articles will be sold until Saturday. Even if you do not wish to buy any of these articles, the American Legion invites you to inspect them and acquaint yourself with some of the work the Scouts are doing. The following three members of Kingston Post are responsible for the fine progress the troop has made: E. J. Luedtke, scoutmaster, P. S. Jones and John Weber, assistant scoutmasters.

Cake Sale Saturday.

On Saturday afternoon, from 2 to 5, the troop will hold a cake sale in Wonderly's store. It is expected that this will materially increase the uniform fund.

Will Hold Young Men's Conference

On Monday a committee of men met to discuss the feasibility of the holding of an Ulster County Young Men's Conference. The meeting was called by C. R. Hall of the Y. M. C. A. and he presided. The men felt that such a conference would be a splendid thing and the dates of March 16 and 17 were set aside for the affair.

The theme of the conference was discussed at length and it was felt that a conference that would help the young men to find their place in the church and its activities would be the best. The Rev. L. K. Paintor of Clintondale and Mr. Hall of the Y. M. C. A. were appointed a committee to secure speakers and to report back to the main committee at a near date. Four representatives from each church were to be allowed as official delegates.

The conference will be held in Kingston beginning on Friday afternoon, March 16. The banquet and closing address to be given on the 17th. Those present were the Rev. George Benton Smith, district superintendent M. E. Church; the Rev. Cornelius Van Tol, president Ulster County Sunday School Association; the Rev. Levinus K. Paintor, Clintondale Friends' Church; the Rev. G. L. Withey of Kingston, Y. M. C. A. Boys' Work committee; Chester R. Hall, Y. M. C. A. Boys' secretary.

Electric Waves Speedy

The radio listeners of a message be broadcast really get the message a fraction of a second sooner than the speaker can be heard by an audience, because electric waves travel faster than sound. The difference is very slight, and sometimes atmospheric conditions may interfere.

Will Celebrate Founding of C. E.

The week of January 29 to February 5 will be observed all over the world as Christian Endeavor Week by over four million Endeavorers, and appropriate services will be held by them in commemoration of the founding on February 2 in Portland, Maine, by the Rev. Francis E. Clark of the first society forty-seven years ago.

All of the churches in this city as well as in the county are making extensive plans for this event and there has been arranged a mass meeting and banquet to be held in the parish house of the Church of the Comforter. Tickets for the banquet, which is to be held on Wednesday evening, February 1, can be had from any of the various Christian Endeavor presidents of the county, this being for all who can attend.

The committee having the matter in charge are making plans to have this one of the best gatherings yet held and have secured as a speaker at the banquet the Rev. J. Harvey Murphy, D. D., of Hudson, a man well known as being a most eloquent and inspiring speaker and who always holds the closest attention of his large audiences wherever he appears.

For nearly half a century Christian Endeavor has been training both here and abroad young people by the million and their power is felt not only in the church but in the various localities where they are. Today many of the foremost men say they owe what they are to the training they have had in their local Christian Endeavor Society and the nation as well as the individual have felt the power of this movement.

LAST NIGHT on the RADIO

Reception Tuesday evening was fair, with the usual fading from the nearby stations. The most consistent performer on the air was WLW, although KDKA, WJR and WLS were free from fading and in fair volume. WCX and WLW were again heard before dark.

Fair Uniting Countries

Because of the great interest taken by Cuba, Porto Rico and Haiti in the annual provincial fair at Santiago, Dominican republic, the event is becoming inter-Antiliiean in scope. It is believed that the little fair will attract other Caribbean countries, and result in uniting that area more closely in political, social and economic relations.

When You Catch Cold Rub On Musterole

Musterole is easy to apply and works right away. It may prevent a cold from turning into "flu" or pneumonia. It does all the good work of grandmother's mustard plaster.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made of oil of mustard and other home simples. It is recommended by many doctors and nurses. Try Musterole for sore throat, cold on the chest, rheumatism, lumbago, pleurisy, stiff neck, bronchitis, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pains and aches of the back and joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet—colds of all sorts.

To Mothers:* Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

Y. M. C. A. Bible Classes Meet

The second meeting of the 1928 series of Bible classes for boys will be held at the Y. M. C. A. on Thursday evening at 6 o'clock. Last week 54 boys were present and already others have indicated their intention of being present that will bring the total over 60.

If there are any boys who want to come Thursday evening, they should get in touch with Mr. Hall, the boys' secretary, and sign up with him for the supper tonight. The boys will have a supper directly before the classes which have been so popular during the past seven years of Mr. Hall's administration.

This year the boys will study the course, "Athletes of the Bible," by Brink. This course includes studies in the character of such men as David, Elijah, Samson, Paul and of Jesus.

The classes will be taught by the following older boys and men: Alex Shader, Burton Van Deusen, Homer Brown, Loomis Myers, Tom Rowland and Secretary Hall.

The registration of over 60 boys makes it possible to hold classes for the younger boys, the Pioneer group, the high school older boys and for the fellows who are working.
